29th Week in Ordinary Time

October 20

Parent Meeting, 7pm with Social Time at 6:30

Dear Families,

October 21

Mass, 9am

As I listened to the readings at Mass on Saturday, I found myself thinking about our teachers. In the First Reading from Exodus, when Moses held his arms up, Israel had the better of the fight. When Moses' arms became tired, Aaron and Hur supported his arms, one on each side. This sounded like our teachers. When one of our students is struggling more than one teacher supports that child. When a student is sad or hurting, other students reach out to help their classmate. Every day I see wonderful examples of students and teachers supporting one another—thinking, acting, and loving like Jesus.
